Mrs. Westlund Gives Names of Cancer Campaign Workers

Ada M. Westlund, cancer fund chairman for Mokena, has announced the names of those who will canvass during the month of April.

They are Mrs. Edward Akers, Mrs. Roy Ebert, Mrs. Glenn Crawford, Mrs. Brooks McElven, Mrs. Evert Benson, Mrs. Fred Ricketts, Mrs. Donald Becker, Mrs. Oliver Kieslar, Mrs. Henry Luplow, Mrs. Hugo Neithammer, Mrs. Roy Kropp, Mrs. Gordon Bruce, Mrs. Thomas Powers, Mrs. Walter Hentsch, Mrs. Charles Hostert and Mrs. Hans Muehler.

Mrs. Westlund and Mrs. Ricketts attended the kickoff luncheon Friday in the Joliet Country club, Mrs. Westlund said.

"Starting from April 1 thru April 30 the annual cancer drive will be held. There will be workers out to solicit your contributions in the Mokena area and it is hoped that everyone will be as generous as possible. There probably isn't a person who doesn't know of someone in their family or friends who has had this dread disease and know the suffering and pain an individual goes through with it."

Some facts about cancer were brought out at the kickoff luncheon.

No one can predict with accuracy when cancer will strike next. No one can be sure he will not develop it.

Every two-one third minutes someone dies of cancer. Last year some 227,000 Americans were lost to this disease.

This disease is a cruel foe of mankind's worst enemies-but there is much we can do to save lives today in our community. And there is much we can do to build for a future where cancer will be controlled.

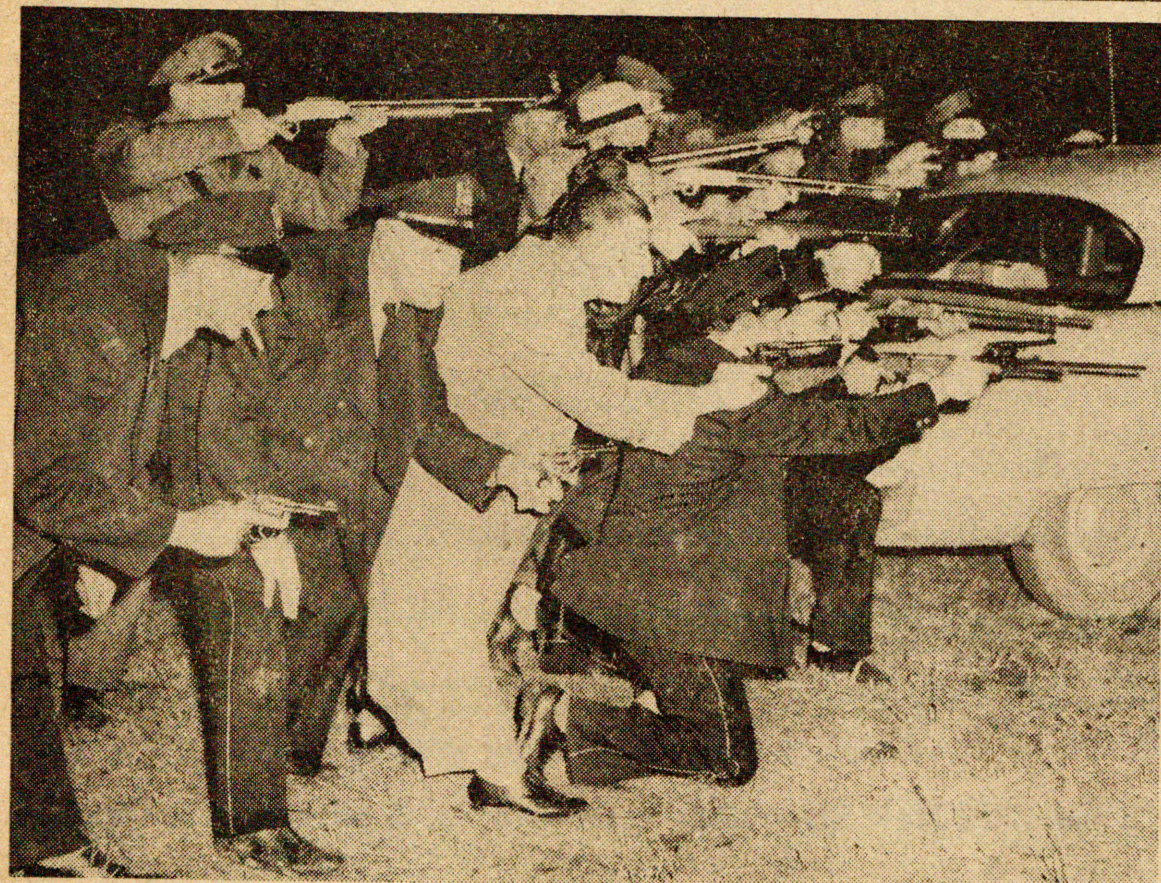

On you will depend the success of the American Cancer society in the coming year. On the dollars you raise will be built programs of research, education and service to cancer patients.

But the cancer crusade is more than just an appeal for funds. It is a lifesaving crusade in which the self-interest of the contributor is deeply rooted.

In giving to conquer cancer he seeks to guard those he loves, to protect those who are threatened. In learning the seven danger signals, the contributor may be learning how to save a life, the life of a neighbor, of a friend, of a dear relative, even his own life.

In a raging hour long gun battle last week in Rich township, Chief Harold Moore and Officer Robert Wagner, left foreground, of Tinley Park, help to subdue the "wild motorist," Paul Pauling, who shot it out with more than 150 state, county and suburban police. Chief Moore recovered Pauling's rifle and had it sent in for ballistics tests. Pauling has been charged on two counts of assault to kill, and is scheduled to appear April 23 in Homewood sheriff's police court. Paul Leland photo.

MRS. FOLKERS GETS NATIONAL SAFETY AWARD

Mrs. Glenn W. Folkers, Frankfort, has been given a National Committee for Traffic Safety award for outstanding contributions to highway safety in 1953.

She is executive secretary of the Ladies' auxiliary, National Rural Letter Carriers' association, and has aroused the interest of her own organization, government postal authorities, and people all over the nation in seeing that traffic safety conditions for rural letter carriers are improved.

Mrs. Folkers traveled with her husband as he made his rural deliveries, getting first hand knowledge of the traffic hazards he faced in the performance of his job. She put her observations into the form of a comprehensive report with specific recommendations for improvement.

As a result, her organization has adopted a national traffic safety program which in 1953 was implemented by the activities of Auxiliary groups in 38 states.

At the invitation of President Eisenhower, Mrs. Folkers attended the White House conference on highway safety held Feb. 18, 19, and 20 in Washington, D. C.

Several weeks previously she had served on a committee called by Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the U. S., to draft plans for the conference.

Fifteen awards, eight to organizations and seven to individuals, were given in the NCTA annual citation program, which was broadened in 1953 to include any group or individual "whose activities are solely inspired by a desire for greater safety on our streets and highways, and whose efforts might otherwise be unrecognized."

Other individuals selected for recognition are Mayor David Lawrence, Pittsburgh, Raymond Waters, chairman of the Lea county, N. M. Traffic safety commission, Earl W. Stanley, member of the California legislature, Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, safety chairman of the General Federation of Women's clubs, Gov. Arthur B. Langlie, Washington, and Phillip C. Johnson, Indiana state representative.

Presentations will be made at the national meetings of the winners' organizations, or similar appropriate occasions.

Name 2 Members Of Teaching Staff

The annual election of the Lincoln-Way Community High school, District 210, for the purpose of electing three persons to membership on the board of education, will be held Saturday, April 10. The four regular polling places will be located in Mokena, Manhattan, Frankfort and New Lenox, and in the elementary schools in these villages.

A. H. Krusemark, Jr., Frankfort, George Bovee, Manhattan, and Lawrence Kohl, Mokena, are seeking re-election. All three have served on the board since the district was organized in 1951. Mr. Krusemark has also served as the board president.

What About This?

During the past few weeks while I have been confined to my home by illness I have had a little time for reflecting on things which one does not ordinarily think about. I returned from a lovely Florida rest feeling in good health and after being in the office one day I seemed to develop another heavy cold. At first I didn't think too much about it, a cold, well, most everybody has colds now-a-days. But when I began to feel sick and weak which compelled me to go home again, then I began to think about something which I want to share with all.

A call was placed at 8 a. m. for a doctor from the Hedges clinic and at 5 p. m. Dr. W. H. Cave was the first doctor there who was able to get to the call. I really felt sorry for him after talking with him about his work that day. He had not been in the office all day, was really most the time in Silver Cross hospital doing surgery, answering many other calls in homes located quite some distance apart. The other doctors in the clinic also were busy making calls, tending to those who came to the office and at the hospitals also. No wonder the doctor was tired out when he got here, and especially after being ill for several months himself. Overwork caused his illness in the first place also. Of course if my call had been urgent, it would have been answered quickly. But I knew I could wait, I just had a cold, resting and keeping warm in bed was about all I needed so why worry.

But what he told me, shocked me, for after just having had a run-in with virus pneumonia, there I was with the same thing again, and I said, "Now I am mad", I haven't time to be sick again. Course we all feel we haven't time to be sick, but we have to take it when it comes and be thankful for good medical help, which I was.

Now to my thought! If we had a hospital right here in our own locality, where our people would not have to go so far to a hospital and which keeps our doctors away from their home town patients so long, wouldn't that be a good thing for every one around this wide area? Then I thought, well where would be the most logical place to have a hospital, I have a good idea. Of course it would have to be an approved first class hospital with only first class physicians, surgeons and nurses, that goes without saying. We want the best. But it would not have to be such a large building. I don't know much about building hospitals, but I should think a 40 to 50 bed size, with all the latest equipment would be alright.

For the best for this fast growing area, I most sincerely solicit personal letters from our readers, telling me of their reaction to this suggestions and in addition any suggestions they may have.

We have fine schools, industry, recreation fine eating places, business places, etc., through out this vast area, but no hospital. If we had a hospital of our own, whereby patients from the surrounding 10-12 villages, and towns and more, might be glad to come, where patients would more than likely be friends or relatives, seems that could be real comforting in times of illness.

I hope this will not be too much of a shock to the doctors in our area, but anyway, the bee is out of my bonnet and I truly think it is a well worth while thing to think about. May I hear from many?

Yours for a better community of villages,
Your Editor,
Margaret M. Semmler

CHARGE TWO COUNTS IN PAULING CASE

Two counts of assault to kill have been charged against Paul Pauling, 35, the "wild motorist" who fought an hour-long battle last week with more than 150 state, county and suburban police.

Chief Harold Moore and officer Robert Wagner of Tinley Park were the first to arrive at the scene after hearing the call for help via their police car radio. Other officers taking part in the fray came from Chicago Heights, Joliet, Park Forest, Matteson, Flossmoor and Homewood and county officers from Blue Island and Homewood.

Pauling, who was driving east on Sauk trail, apparently went berserk after drinking a quantity of vanilla. He waved down a police car about two blocks west of Cicero ave., shoved a rifle in the window, and threatened to kill the officers.

Officer Otto Svehla, Berwyn, was shot as he got out of the police car, and in turn the two officers shot Pauling in the leg. After other police were summoned and more than 500 shots were exchanged, Pauling was felled by Joe Kedelis of the Cook County highway police. He had been shot seven times. Chief Harold Moore of the Tinley Park police recovered Pauling's rifle.

Pauling was transferred Saturday from St. James hospital, Chicago Heights, to Cook County hospital, Chicago. Both he and Svehla are recovering from their wounds.

Pauling is scheduled to appear April 23 in the Homewood sheriff's police court.

CON MEN ROB MARLEY WOMAN OF $65 SAVINGS

Mrs. Sophie Edrington, Marley, was robbed of $65 on March 22 by two Mexicans who claimed to be stove repairmen. They were driving a 1941 maroon Chevrolet with a Texas license and stopped at her house and inquired about her stove.

Since her kitchen stove needed new grates she gave them the job, and when they finished they gave her a bill for $20. Mrs. Edrington objected, saying their fee was too high. She said she could not spare that much money at the present time and asked if she couldn't mail them the money on the installment basis. The men demanded the money at once.

Mrs. Edrington became frightened and went in her bedroom for an envelope containing her savings. She came out with the $20 leaving the envelope on her dresser. One of the men asked her to get a piece of paper for a receipt, and then he went with her into the kitchen for it. The other man went out to the car supposedly.

After the receipt was made the first man went out and they drove away with great speed. Soon after they were gone, Mrs. Edrington found her envelope with the money missing. She is an elderly lady who lives alone in her house in Marley. County police were notified and they came out and made investigations.

More than $1,300 in merchandise was taken early Saturday when burglars entered the Berlin IGA supermarket, route 30, New Lenox.

They took an estimated $600 worth of cigarettes and 13 cases of coffee, worth $400, Lloyd Berlin, one of the owners, told Will county police. The shipment of he said.

Entrance was made by prying open the front door with a bar. The rear door also had been forced.

Most of the merchandise was taken from the basement warehouse and the cigarettes from the main floor. They were in a rack near the front window. The rack was taken through the rear door, emptied and left behind.

It has not yet been learned how much of the stock was taken. Mr. Berlin was sure that two cases of soap flakes were missing, as well as a case of tomatoes and a case of dog food.

Canned goods and 28 pairs of nylons were found near the rear door, indicating that the looters probably had been frightened away.

The burglary was discovered about 5:30 by a bakery driver, who called Mr. Berlin, and the county police were notified.

Only partial insurance was carried on the stock. Owners of the store are, in addition to Mr. Berlin, John Berlin, Sr., Joliet, Robert Hunter, New Lenox and Edward Kabat, Plainfield.

Delores Rauch Weds Ervin Brandau

The double ring candlelight service was performed by Rev. James Odom before an altar decorated with palms and gladioli. Alice Gintner was organist and Fred Smith the soloist.

The bride was gowned in Chantilly lace over satin with full tiers, tulle in the back and sequin designs in the front. She wore a fingertip veil and carried white orchids and feather carnations.

Henry's First

As spring plowing gets underway on farms across the nation, none of the more than 4 million farm tractors in use will resemble this one. Henry Ford's first farm tractor, built in 1907, long since has been retired to a place of honor in the Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Mich. The 24-horsepower vehicle, which Mr. Ford called his "Automobile Plow," sports an engine with copper water jackets. Its rear wheels were taken from a binder. Despite its early vintage, it still runs.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN
Scripture: John 17
Devotional Reading: I Timothy 2: 1-8a.

Pray for Others

Lesson for April 4, 1954

WHAT Christ prayed for, we have a right to pray for. This is not to say that we can, so to speak, simply quote his prayers after him and sign our name in place of his. He prayed for objects for which we need not now pray, as when he prayed for Simon Peter. But the kind of thing for which he prayed is the kind of thing for which his followers can boldly pray. For no one has ever known the mind of God so well as Jesus. To pray against the mind of God is to pray in vain; to pray with God's mind is to pray with success. One point is clear from all Jesus' prayers, but especially from the great prayer in John 17; it is that the blessing of God rests on sincere prayer for others.

They Should Know It

Let us hope it is not impertinent to pass on a few thoughts suggested by this prayer of Christ, especially with regard to praying for other people. Intercessory prayer in the true sense is always unselfish, though one may literally pray for other persons with a selfish motive. For instance, if a woman whose husband is a candidate for office prays for his election, that is praying for some one else, right enough; but maybe she is saying one word for him and two for herself. So an ambitious mother might pray that her child would make good in Hollywood. (—and bring home the bacon.) This is not intercessory prayer in the Christian sense. Christ's prayer for others shows that he deeply and completely desired their highest good. But he does not offer this prayer in silence and solitude. He prays in their hearing, they knew they were on his heart. We cannot always pray in the presence of those for whom we pray; but it does them great good to know we are carrying them on our hearts before God. No service of friend or loved one is more cherished than the simple yet sublime service of intercessory prayer.

It Should Be for the Best

Prayer for others should be for the best—and this in two senses. It should be in line with God's best purposes, and it should be for the best things. When Christ prayed in Gethsemane that the cup might pass from him, the prayer was not granted, because what God willed would not be possible, or would not have been possible, if Christ had not been willing to drink that bitter cup to the dregs. God will not grant requests that upset his plans, no matter how earnest and apparently right the requests may be. But prayer for others ought to be for the best things. Not that we should not pray for lesser things. It surely is not wrong to pray that mother may find her wedding ring that got lost in the laundry, or that Uncle Harry may get over his cold. But surely as we grow more mature in the Christian life we can begin to appreciate the kind of prayer that Christ offered for his friends. He did not pray there at the Last Supper for their health, long life, or "prosperity." He prayed for their inner spirits, he prayed for their unity of heart, for their vision of God. How often we pray for something to happen to our loved ones, how seldom do we pray for them! When a child lay dying of rabies, hundreds of prayers went up for his recovery. These were not granted. But other prayers were offered for his parents' faith; and these were granted.

Nothing You Ask—?

"Nothing you ask will be denied," a popular hymn says. But the Bible does not promise that. Jesus never promised it. What is promised, and what is true, is that the more our prayers harmonize with the will of the God of Love, the more surely they will find answer. Now we often pray for our friends, as we do for ourselves, that God will help them do what they want to do, or get what they want to have, or get rid of what depresses or pains them. Give them what they want! Is our cry. (Many of us are too selfish even to get that far in praying for others.) But there is no guarantee that God will give all men, or any man, exactly what he wants. This poor world would be in a much worse mess than it is, if God simply acted at everybody's dictation. The best we can ask for those we love is that they may learn to desire, what God himself desires.

While at Marine Land, Mrs. Marti was chosen to feed the porpoises. She was given a rain coat for the occasion and three small fish. Illinois TAX FACTS

By George Mahin, Executive Secretary
Taxpayers Federation of Illinois

Tuesday, April 6, and Tuesday April 13, are two of the most important days of 1954 to the taxpayers of Illinois.

Tuesday, April 6, is the date that the annual town meeting will be held in 1433 townships in the 85 township organized counties in Illinois. Every qualified voter of an Illinois township is entitled to participate and vote at the annual town meeting.

The budget, appropriation ordinance and tax levy for the town general fund and for the town public assistance fund (relief) are determined by the electors present at the town meeting. There is no limitation on the amount that can be levied for town general fund purposes. The only way the taxpayers can protect themselves against unnecessarily high tax levies for this purpose and for general assistance purposes is to be present at the town meeting.

The budget and appropriation ordinance for the town general fund and public assistance fund must be prepared in tentative form at least 30 days before the town meeting, must be conveniently available for inspection by the electors during that time, and a public hearing must be held on or before March 30.

Tuesday, April 13, is the date of the primary election. At this primary, the voters will choose the party nominees for United States Senator from Illinois, all of the members of the United States House of Representatives from Illinois, all of the House members of the Illinois General Assembly, State Senators from all of the House members of the Illinois General Assembly, State Senators from all the odd numbered Senatorial Districts plus those to fill vacancies in some even numbered Senatorial Districts, plus county officers.

In many Illinois districts, those nominated for the Illinois House of Representatives will have no contest in November so that the primary election in such districts is far more important than the November election. With government costing the American people more than they spend for food, anyone who fails to vote at the April 13 primary has only himself to blame if the candidates nominated are unfriendly to the cause of the taxpayers.

Offer Reward of $100 for Clue to Thieves' Identity

A reward of $100 is being offered by the F-Men of Green Garden for information leading to the identity of the party, or parties, that have been breaking into homes and stealing various articles, in and around Green Garden township.

FARM BUREAU MEMBERS TOUR CHICAGO OFFICE

Twenty five Farm Bureau members from New Lenox and Frankfort townships went to Chicago by bus March 25 to tour the Agricultural Association of Illinois, 43 E. Ohio street, and the offices of the Illinois Farm Supply company. The group was met by Roy E. Wills of the special service department and Jean Kinzler of the department of Farm Bureau family activities.

Miss Kinzler stated that it is the aim of her department to give rural women an opportunity to participate in Farm Bureau programs and to establish good public relations with organized womens groups. I.A.A. president Charles B. Shuman welcomed the group and addressed them informally. He was pleased to note that family participation in township Farm Bureau meetings is growing. He stated that ours was the first township group thus far to visit the I.A.A. offices. He gave a brief outline of the operation of the Country Life and Country Mutual insurance companies and then answered questions of the group.

Reservations had been made for a group luncheon at Younger's after which Roy Wills furnished guides to conduct the group on a tour thru the 12 floors of offices in the I.A.A. building and the Illinois Farm Supply offices. Members of the group commented on the clean, quiet, pleasant and efficient atmosphere to be found thru out the building. All felt that it was an interesting tour.

Members who went on the tour are: David Gougar, County Farm Bureau president, and Mrs. Gougar; Frank Townsend, special agent for the Country Mutual and Country Life Inurance companies and Mrs. Townsend, Ray Brown, general agent, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bernard, Ben L. Martin, Royal Corp, John F. Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Batson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pester, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gougar, Walter Bernard, Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, Mr. and Mrs. William Brinker, Arthur Geuther, Chris Shields, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlson.

Coffee At Its Best

The test of a good hostess is her coffee—or so say experts in the culinary arts. But expert or not, everybody agrees that for a delicious cup of coffee you must begin with a sparkling clean coffee pot. Therefore, those ugly coffee stains and the stubborn oil residue must be completely removed from your coffee maker before a fresh, new brew can be started.

To make certain that your coffee gets the right start, wipe out inside of the pot after each using with the new germ-killing golden sudsing cleanser. Rinse thoroughly. The new cleanser, so easy on the hands, cleans, sanitizes and deodorizes all at one time.

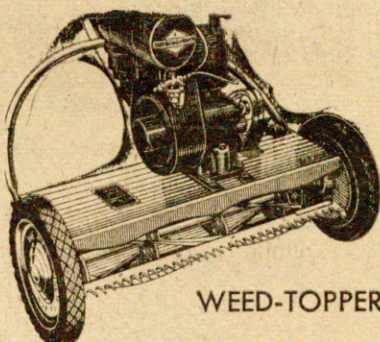

Use this new cleanser daily to keep all kitchen work surfaces and sink sanitary, to remove food odors from skillets and pans, and to sanitize baby's high chair. Use it, too, on your bathroom sink and tub to keep them clean, sweet smelling and sanitary.

You'll find this versatile new cleanser in your food store now. And, because of the many important services it performs, you'll find two packages to be good home management—one for the kitchen and one to keep in the bathroom.

GARDENS NEED FERTILIZER

Unless you have used lots of fertilizer on your garden in the past few years, it's almost sure to need some of the important plant foods.

Carl F. Mees, Farm Adviser, of Cook County, says many soils need limestone as well as potassium and phosphorus.

A soil test is the best way, of course, to tell just exactly what your soil needs. The report comes back to you with specific recommendations on how much lime it takes to sweeten the soil and how much other fertilizer to use.

You can get a complete soil test for garden or lawns through the Farm Bureau office at Tinley

Park. Although our laboratories are testing for field crops, the tests are also useful for gardens, and lawns Mees says.

If you don't test your soil,

Mees recommends applying for gardens about three to five pounds of 5-10-10 fertilizer per 100 square feet on soils that have not been fertilized recently. Soils fertilized in the last few years would need less. Any fertilizer similar to 5-10-10 would do the job, too. Mees says.

For lawns 10-10-10 would be a better fertilizer applied at the rate of 20 pounds per 1,000 square feet. Apply before the grass begins to grow this spring and apply when the grass is dry also.

Model G

Count these jobs! Plowing, discing, planting, fertilizing, cultivating, mowing, hauling, belt work—the Allis-Chalmers Rear-Engine Model G does them all... plus many others that regular farm tractors are not designed for.

The cotton farmer, the vegetable grower—all specialty crop growers, the poultryman, and the general field crop farmer—each finds a special usefulness in the Model G that other tractors do not have. Look at these features: Engine in the rear; more weight on drive wheels. Complete line of implements... all front-mounted for precision work—without neck strain. Amazing economy—operates on quarts instead of gallons of fuel.

The creeper gear— $\frac{1}{4}$ mph.—and tools-in-front design make the Model G ideal for truck crops, strawberries and all types of farming where power tools must work with the precision and skill of a hand hoe.

Controlled, precision cultivation! Operator has unobstructed view of his work.

HIGH ON THE FASHION trail this spring is J. C. Penney's two-piece squaw dress available in many different neck and sleeve stylings in print or solid tones. Originating in the Southwest, the squaw dress was inspired by the desert colors and the fiesta mood typical of that region.

Foreign Trade Falls Off
According to "Illinois Business Review" for March, foreign demand for American goods fell off in January. Total U. S. exports during the month came to a little over $1 billion, 20 percent below exports a year earlier. Substantially lower military aid deliveries accounted for part of the drop. Also of importance, however, was reduced demand for American goods. This was partly the result of lesser dependence of foreign countries on American goods because of increased production of their own and partly reflects a desire on the part of these countries to conserve their gold and dollar holdings.

Imports of foreign goods also declined in January, falling 12 percent below last January's level to $825 million.

Easter Bunny Rides Again

Pretty and Spring-like—that's the way your Easter dinner table should look! And with easy-to-get crepe paper and laundry bluing (the kind that comes in bead form) you can easily make a gay crepe paper chariot like this for your Easter eggs! The effect is different as can be!

Wagon: Cut a strip of light green crepe paper 12"x12", and against the grain. Stretch it full length... then, with fingertips, pinch lightly every few inches. Smooth out slightly. Brush paste over back of an 8" paper plate and cover with the prepared paper, pressing into place. Paste extending edges of paper on other side of plate.

Take a fold of light green crepe paper, just as you buy it, and without unfolding, cut a $2\frac{1}{2}$ " strip from one end. Open, and then refold into 8 layers. Pin along one side to hold in place, and cut other side into fringe $2\frac{1}{2}$ " deep. Keep strip folded and dip tips of fringe into Easter Blue... Open strip and allow to go around edge of plate. Wrap fringe around tissue roll, overlapping closely as you go, so that no tissue shows, and fringe is full. Paste so that a circle is formed all around edge of plate.

Wheels: Cut two 11"x $\frac{1}{2}$ " strips of cardboard. Paste together, leaving about 1" unfasted at both ends. Bend these ends in opposite directions for tabs. Cut two 4" circles of cardboard and cover both sides with light green crepe paper. Bind rims of wheels with 1" wide strip of light green crepe paper, which has been cut crosswise of the paper fold... stretching paper and pasting as you go around. Paste tabs to wheels and paste strip underneath plate.

Trimming for Wheel: Cut a strip of orchid crepe paper $1\frac{1}{2}$ " wide and across grain of paper. Fold in half lengthwise and twist, pasting to edge of wheel as you twist. Repeat the twist around center of wheel with orchid crepe paper, and put a tiny twist in center of each wheel.

Easter Blue: Mix to a creamy consistency 1 cup head-form laundry bluing with a quarter cup of water. Buy Easter bunny and chick cutouts to complete the decoration.

Molasses Cookies Are Spring Tonic

Instead of sulphur and molasses, make gingerbread cookies as a spring tonic. The sulphur portion went out when a year-long supply of fruits and vegetables was assured. Nor is it necessary to have sulphur in molasses... it gets there only when molasses is a by-product of sugar making. "Unsulphured" molasses is sugar cane juice which has been clarified, concentrated and aged. Its rich aromatic flavor comes from sun-ripened cane.

Unsulphured molasses is an energy food and a very good source of iron. However, credit its tasty flavor for the fact that gingerbread men have been, and continue to be, cookie classics popular with all who eat them.

Gingerbread Men
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup shortening
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup unsulphured molasses
1 egg
 $2\frac{1}{2}$ cups sifted all-purpose flour
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
Cream together shortening, sugar, and unsulphured molasses. Add egg; mix well. Sift together flour, salt, soda, baking powder, and spices. Add to molasses mixture; mix well. Chill in refrigerator $1\frac{1}{2}$ hours. Roll out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Cut with 6-inch gingerbread man cookie cutter. Press in pieces of raisins for eyes, mouth, and buttons. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Cool. Frost if desired.
YIELD: 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ dozen.

Add Salmon To Macaroni And Cheese For A Delicious Casserole

A golden macaroni and cheese casserole studded with succulent flakes of salmon makes mighty good eating. Baked in individual casseroles, this hot and hearty combination makes a simple meal for the cook and gives each person his own dinner in-a-dish to enjoy.

Aside from its delicious flavor, Salmon Macaroni Casserole boasts the ease of preparation which you can always count on with convenient canned products, in this case salmon, soup and evaporated milk.

Canned salmon is one of nature's most healthful foods, since it gives you an abundance of vitamins and minerals as well as body-building protein. Once for ounces it is one of your best protein buys, since the 16-ounce can of solid meat provides four generous servings.

Salmon Macaroni Casserole
4 ounces elbow macaroni
1 can condensed cream of celery soup
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup evaporated milk
1 1-pound can salmon, drained and broken up into pieces
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup finely cut pimiento
1 cup grated American cheese
Cook macaroni according to package directions. Drain, but do not reserve. Combine celery soup and evaporated milk. Add macaroni, salmon, pimiento and $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of the grated cheese. Turn into greased 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ quart casserole or individual casseroles; sprinkle remaining cheese around edge. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 25 minutes.
YIELD: 4 servings.

Muskellunge Pike and Pickerel

The largest and fightingest freshwater game fish in America is the Muskellunge. Even when landed often after an hour or more of furious battling a "musky" thrashes and snaps dangerously until killed with a pistol or lead weighted "persuader." More fishermen spend more time, with less success, trying to hook and land one of these vicious tigers of our northern waters than for any other fish. They are not much good for eating but a musky weighing from 15 to 30 pounds is big enough to make most any angler happy for a year.

There are six known species of the Pike Family and the musky is one of five found in North America. They are remarkably alike in general appearance and habits but differ greatly in size when full grown. All are long slim fish with the head shaped like a duck's bill. The fins have no bony spines and the back fin is located nearer the tail than on most fish. The jaws and roof of the large mouth are armed with numerous teeth, including a row of large formidable canine teeth on each side of the lower jaw. All kinds prefer to lurk in weedy waters.

They spawn in early spring, scattering thousands of eggs on the bottom of shallow bays and among vegetation but give them no further attention. Those that are not destroyed hatch into baby fish that live on microscopic animals, water fleas and small insect larvae. They prey on other water animals until attaining a length of two or three inches, when they graduate to a fish diet varied occasionally as they grow bigger, with frogs, turtles, baby muskrats and ducklings.

Fishermen have caused much confusion by giving many local names to each of the five species of pike. The Walleyed Pike is a pike like perch. The Northern Pike has a dozen common names, including Pickerel, Spotted Pike, Jackfish and Snake, but the commonly known Latin name is Esox lucius. Also found in northern Asia and Europe, it ranges from Alaska and Labrador south to New York, the Ohio valley, Missouri and Nebraska. Reaching a length of two feet and a weight of three pounds in 3 or 4 years, 10 to 15 pound "northern" are common in many waters. In Europe a 145 pounder was taken in 1862 but the record rod and reel catch in the U. S. is a 400 pounder taken in New York in 1940. In parts of Canada, because they gobble so many wild ducklings, bounties are paid for pike.

The rod and reel record for muskies has been rising steadily until it now stands at 69 lb. 13 oz., with a length of 63 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches but a 102 pounder was taken in Wisconsin, in a net, over 50 years ago. Muskies are often subdivided into three regional races—the Great Lakes race, the Ohio River basin or Chautauqua race, and the "tiger musky" of Wisconsin and Minnesota which may be a natural hybrid with the northern pike. The musky has a dark green or gray back and olive sides marked with vertical bars or dark spots. There are no scales on the lower half of its cheeks and gill covers. The northern pike has pale elongated blotches on a background of olive or dark green. There are no scales on the lower half of the gill covers but the cheeks are fully scaled.

The three smaller species of pike all have both the cheeks and the gill covers fully scaled. Neither the little Grass or Mud Pickerel of central U. S., nor the Red fin or Barred Pickerel of the eastern states, often reach a foot in length. The Chain Pickerel, which ranges from eastern Canada to Florida and the Gulf Coast, commonly reaches 2 or 3 pounds and is a gamy fighter. Perfectly camouflaged for its weedy home, with a network of light markings on its bronze-green back and flanks, it offers the best eating of the lot. Let's have no more arguments about which is pike and which is pickerel.

WE NEED MORE MEN LIKE MASON IN CONGRESS

To The Forgotten Voters of Will County

I am Mr. Theodore O. Valentine of Peotone, Ill. I am a Republican Candidate for Sheriff of Will County. I am for more adequate Police Protection and clean law enforcement in the county.

I have 15 years as an honest law enforcement officer. I am experienced, honest and well qualified to serve as your Sheriff. I am well known all over Will County, and if the people from outside of Joliet will come out and vote the 13th of April I can win.

I am not supported by any organization or group. I served several years as Chief of Police at Peotone. I also served as a Deputy Sheriff under the late Ernest Overby and your present Sheriff. I resigned the 1st day of September, 1953.

The money I am spending on my campaign, is my own. I have been looking forward to meeting all of you people. Folks all I ask is that every one go out and vote, and let the politicians know we not only vote, but we have a Candidate from outside of Joliet that is qualified to serve the public.

The only time we see a candidate in our end of the County is when they are looking for our support.

Your support will be appreciated very much.

Vote for a Candidate who is Qualified and is also Eligible

Some one named this game recreation! Me thinks it's hard work at times! Especially for some people and yet some of the bowlers think all you need is confidence! The only trouble with that, this one team's confidence only lasted for one game but it was a good game. H&S Feed Store evidently lacked confidence in themselves as they lost all 3 games to INR Beatty to give INR the league lead.
Voot's Dept. Store took two games from Lehmann Bros. Garage and Bremen State won two from Goebel's Ins.

On March 26 Doctor school was host when six schools combined to make easier and faster the immunization of the children. Those who took part are Yunker, Orland Center, Maue, Kirby and Holstein. More than 100 shots were given by Cook county Doctor Robert Dessert, assisted by Dr. Beck and Dr. Betz. Also helping were nurses Olive McDougle and LaVerne Dombrowsky and parents Mrs.

Frank Greenhoe, Mrs. Donald Maue and Mrs. Charles Stewart. Mr. and Mrs. Mel Dralle and children were Sunday evening visitors of the Edward Umeke. Mrs. Robert Laing, of Orland Park, Mrs. Donald Maue and Mrs. Charles Stewart of Wooded Estates attended the Southwestern area PTA council executive meeting March 23 in Midlothian. Plans were made to send Mrs. Edward Pettijohn, president of the council to Springfield, April 29 to the state convention.

Mrs. E. Mrosek

Parties honoring the birthdays of Tony Molitor and Rodney Knierim, were enjoyed by children in the lower grades and their teacher, Mrs. Helen Lombke at Maue school last week.

Twenty-four of Maue's school children received inoculations Friday morning at the Doctor school. Mothers who provided transportation were Mrs. Maue, Mrs. Donovan, Mrs. Lauffer, Mrs. Gripps, Mrs. Albert, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Froemel.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mrosek and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Culp enjoyed an evening of canasta in the Culp home Friday. A late luncheon was served.

Garrett Cummins visited with his brother, Merle Brust, west of Joliet Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Roy Walker entertained at a party Saturday afternoon honoring her son Arthur and his 11th birthday. Ice cream sundaes, cake, chocolate milk and spice candies were served. The children played with their party favors. Guests were Marvin, Larva and Walter Reeves, Steven Koveikis, Carla Mrosek and Arthur's cousins, Deen, Donna and Judy Taylor. Mrs. Deen Taylor assisted her sister, with the party. Sunday, Arthur's birthday, Mr. and Mrs. Walker entertained at a family supper, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Cummins, her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Deen Taylor, children, Donna, Deen and Judy; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walker and Carol of Chicago and a friend, Victor Noer of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hughes and Dennis, their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Worley, Paul Jr., all of Chicago visited with Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Cummins Sunday afternoon.

Chal Williams was one of the Orland-Palos High school students to attend the engineering exhibit Saturday with their instructor, Mr. Brown, at the University of Illinois in Urbana.

Harry Taylor of Chicago was a dinner guest of his son, Mr. and Mrs. Deen Taylor Sunday.

The regular monthly meeting of the Maue PTA board will be held with Mrs. Chester Williams Thursday evening, April 8. Reports on the square dance will be given and plans for the hobby show discussed. The hobby show of last year proved so successful that it was decided to have another one this year with the hope of stimulating even more interest in hobbies.

Many children have been absent from school because of Flu. Doubtful weather conditions caused some to remain home Monday.

Remember, there will be instructions in square dancing in Maue school Friday evening, April 2.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Felsch was the scene of much nonsense Saturday evening when they entertained at a wedding anniversary party in honor of his father and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Felsch, and surprised Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pelouquin with a stork shower.

The unsuspecting elder Mrs. Felsch a bride of five years, was ushered into a back room and dressed in bridal apparel in preparation for a mock wedding ceremony. Edward Mrosek, whose facial appearance has been changed by the addition of a false nose and spectacles officiated as minister. He read the ceremony from a Sears catalog as composed by Mrs. Henry Felsch. Attendants were Mrs. Edward Mrosek and Henry Felsch. Both had been attendants at the wedding five years ago. When the mirth subsided, the Felschs opened packages that ranged from footpicks and rolling pins to a hamburger press. More laughter was provoked as packages containing such gifts as root beer bottles, properly outfitted for dispensing of baby formula were opened by Mr. and Mrs. Pelouquin. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pelouquin, Nancy and Carol. Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Simrell, Mr. and Mrs. William Felsch, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mrosek, Edward and Carla, John Kohl, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kohl, Donnie and Mary Lou, Hamburgers, salad and cake were served.

out the year, and poultrymen had one of their best years.

This year will be good, Broadbent believes, but not so good as last year. By fall many of the promises and predictions being made now to encourage larger flocks will seem far-fetched.

The average hen eats about 90 pounds of feed a year, which will cost about four dollars. She will lay about 14 dozen eggs, which will bring on the average, about $6.40. From the difference, has to be paid the cost of raising pullets, plus building, labor and equipment costs. Plan your operation on these facts, said Broadbent.

Keep 1954 Corn Profits High With Good Soil Management

Plant a stalk population high enough to make use of all the nutrients the soil can supply.

FARMERS can keep 1954 corn profits high by good soil management including fertilizer use which helps them produce the same amount of corn on fewer acres, according to the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

"Such a program will enable farmers to stay within 1954 corn acreage allotments," says a statement issued by the committee, "and prevent piling up surpluses."

The committee points out that land taken out of corn production can be put into soil building legume grass pastures which yield good returns from forage, hay and silage.

Soils men estimate that corn yields can be nearly doubled on many Midwestern farms by good soil and crop management. For higher yields they recommend planting well adapted hybrid seed corn, increasing the stalk population per acre and adding enough fertilizer to feed the extra stalks. Stands of 16,000 to 18,000 stalks can produce profitable yields on heavy soils, according to these agronomists. On sandy soils they suggest 10,000 to 12,000 stalks per acre.

Before corn planting, some soils men recommend plowing down or discing in 800 to 1,000 pounds per acre of a mixed fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphate and potash, such as 10-10-10. At planting time they suggest applying 250 to 300 pounds of a starter fertilizer. Then when the corn is 3 to 10 inches high, side dress with a nitrogen fertilizer.

Such a system paid off with yields ranging from 100 to 165 bushels of corn on many Wisconsin farms last year, reports C. J. Chapman, University of Wisconsin extension soils specialist.

Ready-Made Nail Trays

EVERY handyman about the house knows there's always an eventual use for old pieces of lumber, hardware, nails, screws, bolts and nuts and scraps of all sorts. The illustrations, which appeared in American Builder, leading trade magazine for contractors and builders, shows how readily an old-type drawer pull may be inverted, fastened to the wall near the workbench, and filled with nails or screws.

A series of drawer pulls can be used in this manner.

Don't Expand Flock Recklessly: U. of I. Market Specialists

Poultrymen are being warned to take wild promises of high poultry profits with a grain of salt—or more.

Emer Broadbent, poultry marketing specialist at the University of Illinois, said that poultry men are being encouraged to expand their operations on the basis of last year's prices.

But last year was far from normal, he stated. Egg prices were higher than average thru

Facts About
Harry
Clarke

(Democratic Committeeman)

1. Harry Clarke is a lifelong resident, civic leader and businessman in Bremen township. He is the son of a pioneer farmer and has served this township well as Democratic committeeman since 1932.

2. Harry is endorsed and encouraged for re-election by every one of the thirty-one precinct captains and the Regular Township Democratic Organization, Inc.

3. Harry has a friendly, honest "grass roots" attitude which has enabled him to administer the duties of his public office justly and fairly without creating an enemy... as a result he has never lost an election (It's hard to beat the best man.)

4. As a businessman, Harry Clarke is a partner in the Clarke-Hulett Chevrolet Co. of Midlothian and the H&C Motor Service of the same town. He is a member of the International Union of Operating engineers, Local 150. His excellent reputation as a co-operative fair-minded business man is far reaching.

5. Harry Clarke is a service minded civic leader. He has never hesitated to use the influence of his political office to help and assist any worthwhile project for the betterment of the community or Bremen Township. Major party politics has never been an issue when it concerned a community deed at the local level. Harry Clarke is endorsed and respected by most of the honest businessmen in the township.

6. In his 22 years as Democratic Committeeman, Harry Clarke has never accepted or solicited gratuities or "kickbacks" from political job holders.

Facts About Carl Relli

(Candidate for Democratic Committeeman)

1. Carl Relli, tho a long time resident of Bremen, never bothered to register as a voter until March 3, 1952 and has never even voted in a primary election in this township. (This is the man who wants a "Strong" Democratic organization.)

2. Relli is self-appointed, self-encouraged, and self-imposed on the voters. Apparently he is not endorsed by anyone of consequence.

3. Relli was just defeated in the Markham village election last April. He sought the office of police magistrate and lost to his local constituents. Obviously he is not too popular with the voters in his own community.

4. As a businessman, Carl Relli owns and operates his Highway Motel and Tavern. (Is this where you want your Democratic headquarters?) He was a former Lieutenant in the Cicero Ave. State Police station under Governor Green... then washed out by the merit board under Gov. Stevenson.

5. As a "civic minded" citizen, Carl Relli has never hesitated to use the influence... of a friend's political office... particularly if it was for the betterment of Mr. Carl Relli. Toward the end of and immediately following World War II, there was an alarming scarcity of building materials, labor shortages and an ever increasing demand for veteran's housing. During this critical period, Mr. Relli had no difficulties in constructing a liquor store, tavern and other commercial buildings along Route 6.

6. Since his release from active duty with the State Police, Carl Relli hasn't been in a position to solicit or accept gratuities or kickbacks from anybody—yet.

BABSON SAYS—

Copyright, 1954, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.
BABSON DISCUSSES BUSINESS AND HEALTH
Some weeks ago I wrote a column on the relation of Business to Mental Health. I now wish to write on order to buy, but they must also be free from worry in order to do good work and get promoted. This is so self evident that it needs no discussion; but I want to write now of something much deeper.

I have not been feeling well for three weeks. Although I was not confined to bed, yet something caused severe pains in my back and legs. I just could not do any constructive work and I began to worry, which I never do when feeling well. I, therefore, am now in Florida for a few weeks. This column, however, is not an advertisement for Florida, although I am very fond of its climate.

My purpose rather is to say that being independent financially and free to come and go, I am not dependent upon any job or salary. If, however, I were, and obliged to go to an office each day, I would not have given my company "value received" for my salary. Worse than that, I probably would have made mistakes in judgment which would have caused the company financial loss.

Yet, there must be hundreds of important executives and thousands of foremen and tens of thousands of workmen, salesmen, and clerks who are dragging themselves to work when they ought to be home in bed. They do this partly not to lose their pay; or, if they are executives, not to have the word get around that they are not well. As the prosperity of every business depends largely on the decisions made by executives, foremen and others, such "half-sick" men or women can cause their companies much loss.

When you consider that thousands of companies are suffering losses for this reason, it shows how poor health and worry must affect the entire business of the country. If you are unemployed, it may be due to your health or to your boss's health. In other words, if he were "up to snuff" the company might not have needed to lay you and others off. So much for that. Now some statistics on the direct cash cost of illness and accidents.

The Health Information Foundation reports that during the past full year 22,000,000 families of these United States as individuals paid out over $10,000,000,000 for medical and dental costs. Furthermore, this was in addition to what the Federal Government and the States expended. Of the above $10 billion, $2 billion went to hospitals, nearly $5½ billion to doctors and dentists, $1½ billion for medicines, and over $1 billion for other practitioners, nurses, etc.

Most of the people treated got well, although they lost both time and money. But a good part of this expense was absolutely thrown away—for there were nearly 100,000 deaths, largely from automobile accidents. In addition, millions of others were injured by accidents, such as traffic accidents, 1,350,000; drownings, 6,800; home falls, 2,000; industrial accidents, 15,000; burns, 6,400; firearms, 2,500 etc. These figures are supplied by the National Safety Council. I wonder how many readers of this column will be included in the 1954 figures!

The politicians and welfare experts are constantly raising the legal age at which young people can go to work. Now they say that all should have a college education. At the same time industry is retiring more people between 60 and 65 years of age. Today the number of people over 65 years is one in twelve; in 25 years it will be one in nine. But where is the money coming from to give the young people 22 years for education and play, and the old people pensions?

The truth is that somehow, through more taxes or higher prices, these millions of young and old must be supported by those between 22 and 60-65 years of age. The latter must also supply the $10 billion mentioned above. This makes the cost of sickness, youth, and old age far more important than the cost of coffee!

Joseph Wilhelm on Ballot for Trustee

Joseph R. Wilhelm, of 9 So. Prairie ave., Joliet, is seeking election to the County board of school trustees at the Primary election, Tuesday, April 13.

Two members are to be elected for six year terms. Only one trustee can be named from any one township.

Mr. Wilhelm was a member of the township school trustees from 1941 to 1945. He moved from the Wilhelm school district into the Joliet district in 1945. He had to resign from the board as there already was a member on the board from district 86 and only one member could be from any one school district.

He was born and reared in

Will county near the Wilhelmi airport. He has been in the real estate and insurance business in Joliet and Will county for 24 years.

Launch 1954 Cancer Crusade Today

Launching the initial phase of the 1954 American Cancer society crusade for $1,200,000 in Illinois, a well trained army of suburban division workers will swing into action April 1.

Wallace W. Tudor, state campaign chairman, announced that many suburban workers are already enrolled and out to do their full share and more in helping to make the drive successful.

"The Suburban Division has been assigned a goal of $137,300 as their share of the state target. I want to make sure that everyone realizes that this is a minimum figure. We can, with a little extra effort, exceed this quota. I am sure that all Suburban residents will join me in this objective."

"Every contribution, even as little as a dime, is helpful. Ten cents buys a test tube. Twenty dollars will support a research bed for one day. Five hundred dollars will buy a special microscope and $65,000 will provide a million volt x-ray machine."

"We are poised at the starting line of a great race. It is not a race for glory, or for prizes, or cups or ribbons. It is a race that means life instead of death, and we are confident we will win it."

They really "GO" together

The new I-block Six-Fordomatic Drive combination is available in any of Ford's 14 body styles. Illustrated is the Customline Six Fordor Sedan.

Ford Six and Fordomatic

The new Ford 115-h.p. I-block Six whisks you along silently, smoothly, economically. Its deep-block build provides rigid crankshaft support for smoother, quieter operation. Low-friction design and high-turbulence combustion chambers mean more miles from less gas. And, thanks to the Six's higher compression and increased displacement, you get extra "GO" power at all speeds!

Fordomatic Drive shifts for you more smoothly than you could do it yourself. It's the only "automatic" in Ford's field to combine a fluid torque converter and an automatic intermediate gear. Should you ever need an extra burst of speed for passing or hill-climbing Fordomatic's intermediate gear takes over automatically when you step down on the accelerator.

You get a double-value power package when you buy a '54 Ford with the new I-block Six and versatile Fordomatic Drive.

This brilliant Ford engine-transmission combination brings you all the smoothness and flexibility of the finest no-shift driving combined with the extra economy that's built into the industry's most modern, short-stroke, overhead-valve Six. And, of course, you get the smooth, level riding comfort, the easier handling of Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension, a feature exclusive to Ford in its field.

Remember, too, a Ford Six with Fordomatic Drive is automatically worth more when it comes time for you to sell!

es her home at Lombard, is on a vacation trip to California.

At the recent meeting of the Homer-Lockport Home bureau unit, plans were made for the annual "family night" to be held April 22 in the American Legion home, 204 E. 8th street, Lockport at 6 p. m. Each family is asked to bring their own table service and a dish to pass. Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Brankey will show travel pictures of their recent trip to Europe. The March meeting was held with Mrs. Olga Kowalik with Mrs. Ruth Montgomery and Mrs. Freda Loucks assisting hostesses.

Bell road in Homer township near the Louis Sasse homestead.

Many Homerites attended the LTHS senior play, "Old Doc" Thursday evening. Three Homer young people had roles in the cast. They were Rita Rodgers, Carol Burch and Walter Boyce. The latter was erroneously reported last week as playing "young Doc", he played Dr. Edmond Brand, instead.

Sharon Biddle of New Lenox spent last week end with her grandmother, Mrs. Lottie Biddle in the Mrs. Roy Voight home.

Guests of the Missionary society in Homer church last Thursday, were Mesdames Mary and Nile White of Lockport, Althea Parker, John Loucks and Robert Burch. Arrangements were made for sending the "Women's Gift" to the state office. At the next meeting April 29 in the church, a white elephant sale will be a feature. Mrs. Wrey White and Mrs. F. J. Padlock will be the hostesses.

Every Homer voter is urged to cast his or her vote for LTHS board at Homer Town hall, Saturday afternoon, April 10.

Pvt. Frank Carroll Jr., of St. Leonard Wood, his wife, Mary Ann of Joliet, Marilyn Carroll of Chicago, Mrs. Val Hucklefeldt and children and Mrs. Ruth Miller all of Joliet, were week end visitors in the Frank Carroll Sr. home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Talbert, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Anderson attended the Aurora association meeting at Somanauk Sunday afternoon and evening.

Bill Tilsy celebrated his golden birthday St. Patrick's day with a party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett D. Holm.

Bandseeding, Plus Plant Food Gives More Hay, Extra Income

Bandseeded trefoil makes thick stand.

MORE tons of hay and bigger profits per acre depend on getting thicker stands of legumes, the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out.

Two essentials for sturdy, vigorous growth, says the committee, are:

1—A good seedbed and careful planting methods.

2—A full feed of nutrients. That includes the "appetizer" application that gets the young seedlings off to a quick, sturdy start as well as the "main course" that supplies all the nutrients the legumes need for sustained high-yielding growth.

The soil's overall fertility backlog can be built up with broadcast applications of heavy amounts of plant food. Then at seeding time, fertilizer can be placed within easy reach of the seedlings for their immediate growth needs.

Bandseeding, or "positional fertilizing" is an effective way to give the seedling roots all the nutrients they need for early growth. Success of this method depends on placing the fertilizer directly under the seed, but not in contact with it. Then the seedlings can grab the plant food and grow.

Alfalfa and birdsfoot trefoil gave 21 per cent better stands in Michigan stands than from broadcasting alone, according to Milo B. Tesar, Michigan State College soils man. The seed was placed in a narrow band near the top of the soil above fertilizer drilled one inch deep in seven-inch rows.

Ohio soils men got full, quick growing stands of birdsfoot trefoil the first year when it was bandseeded with oats as a nurse crop. The soil had been plowed, disced and culplacked to get a firm seedbed.

J. L. Haynes, Ohio State University agronomist, reports that at oats harvesting, the trefoil was 6 to 12 inches high with a thick stand across the field. He estimated the oats would go 45 to 50 bushels per acre.

NEW AUTHOR

A prolific new author has appeared on the American literary scene. She is Camille De Rose, whose first book, the "Camille De Rose Story" has become a nationwide best seller.

Miss De Rose's autobiography lucidly describes her life up to its climax in 1951 when she became the vortex of the Cicero riots.

While her first novel is achieving national acclaim for being an honest, startling account of a woman's life, she is busy at work on her second book, a fictional account of a modern woman of many loves.

"Seven Year Itch" Giving Two Early 7:30 Curtains

In order to permit suburbanites reaching home before the milkman "The Seven Year Itch," Chicago's biggest comedy hit in many years, is now playing two early performances, on Thursday and Sunday. The curtain on those days will rise promptly at 7:30 and the final moments come shortly before 10 pm.

Upwards of five thousand persons from nearby Chicagoland have requested earlier curtain Adv.

risings for "Itch." Thus Old Pop ular demand wins out again.

Eddie Bracken is the star of the play and Louise King of North Manchester, Ind., continues in her role as the charmer from upstairs who makes a married man's life more interesting while wifery is in the country.

Prices on Thursday range from $1.25 to $4.40 and on Sunday the top price is $5. All prices include the tax.

Two early curtains for a great show. Finally a producer has bowed to his country cousin. "Itch" is to be congratulated.
